

Books for Summer Reading Programs

Children in both the Newport and Millerstown areas were encouraged to read this past summer and received a free book of their through a service project of Perry Valley Grange. The book give-away was coordinated with established summer programs at the Greenwood Elementary School and at the Newport Public Library.

2011 was the Grange's tenth consecutive year for involvement with the Greenwood program and the eighth year at the Newport Library. Since the inception of the program, the Grange had budgeted $500 for the purchase of books.

Paperback books are distributed in the Greenwood School District to classrooms of children so they can continue reading over the summer. The Newport Library used the books purchased by the Grange as a reward for those children who participated in and completed their summer reading activity packets. A nameplate noting that the book was donated by Perry Valley Grange was placed in the front of each book.

Greenwood Elementary School students received books courtesy of Perry Valley Grange for their summer reading.
